What better time than an election year to look back at where American presidents have spent the night? Whether it's a beachfront casa in Mexico or a sleek hotel in Boston, each of these hotels has had the privilege of hosting the commander in chief.

7. Grand Fiesta Americana Coral Beach Cancun, Cancun, Mexico

When George W. Bush was campaigning for president, he took a brief siesta from the action by checking into the Presidential Suite at this all-inclusive beachfront resort. How posh is the suite? Imagine two stories, rooftop terraces and a private pool with views of the Caribbean.
