

7 Luxury Vacations for the Whole Family This Holiday Season

By Keith Flanagan • 11/24/17 8:00am

Villa Margherita, Sardinia

The Villa Margherita in Sardinia overlooks the Mediterranean Sea. Villa Margherita

Wrangling the whole family can be a handful, which is why places such as the Forte Village Resort exist, so guests hardly need to lift a finger. It's a long haul to the southern tip of Sardinia, but the all-luxury, all-inclusive has eight hotels to pick from. Its most private enclave, a collection of nine villas, are the type of booking where butlers come standard. Chief among that collection is the Villa Margherita, a four-bedroom Mediterranean dream that overlooks the azure sea from its lush perch among grapevines, bougainvillea and citrus trees. Fully contemporary with crisp and airy interiors, there's even a perfectly trimmed yard with a private pool. There's no need for an Italian grandmother to spoil you here, as the resort brings more than 30 restaurants to the table, with Michelin-starred chefs aplenty.